THE MERCURY'S FALLING AFTER 20 YEARS

Mercury from products put into the waste stream is declining. Recently, this public health issue has been best highlighted with the revision of guidelines of certain fish consumption. The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) along with the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) have loosened these guidelines with the implication being that the source of mercury contamination from these sources has decreased. The fish consumption guideline changes may indirectly reflect the findings of the Interstate Mercury Education and Reduction Clearinghouse (IMERC). In 2010, IMERC provided data on the use of mercury sold in products in the U.S. The graphs illustrated devices such as switches/relays, dental amalgam, lamps, batteries and thermostats. The juxtaposition of these two pie charts compared 2001 to 2010. As highlighted in the thermostat slice, there was a noticeable change in mercury in thermostats during this time period as a percentage of the overall pie. In fact, IMERC published that by 2007, mercury use in the production of thermostats was basically nonexistent¹. According to IMERC's fact sheet, "There are non-mercury alternatives that may be suitable for replacing mercury thermostats. Programmable thermostats can save energy and money, by enabling users to automatically adjust the temperature or turn off the heat or air conditioning depending on the time of day." Logically, any decline in thermostat collections can be explained with these overarching constraints.

Looking specifically at the TRC collection data, there has been an irrefutable downward trend in thermostats (on the average) inside the program's recycling containers. What's more is the program's national collections peaked by 2014. At that time, the program would have been in operation at least seven years from last production (2007) of mercury containing thermostats. Or at the beginning of the decline of mercury thermostat production which would have been 10 years (2004). Thus, the further TRC moves from the range of mercury thermostat production (2004-2007), the less the program can reasonably expect to collect since these collected products are fungible. This past year's mercury thermostat collections do, in fact, demonstrate a decline (-2% less than 2016 nationally)². Despite the obvious softening of collections, TRC has recycled more than 2.1 million thermostats, diverting more than 10 tons of mercury from the ecosystem across 48 contiguous states, all within these twenty short years of operation. This is quite an incredible feat.

Amidst the resulting decline in collections, how does the program collect devices that were once widespread in use, do not have a downstream recycled commodity market, and are not uniformly tracked following purchase and installation? The only answer is that you focus on deploying precious resources at targeting the best opportunities within the most promising sectors. You use data, hunches, or metrics. You choose to focus on where there have been consistent numbers inside of the recycling containers and you lean on the stakeholders that make the program a success. In 20 years of operation, we have learned that stakeholders such as the regulatory community, our paying members, the collection points, and vendors hold the keys to our success as an organization. Without them, we do not have a successful recycling program, nor does the environment. Utility driven thermostat replacement programs, the installing HVAC industry, and the waste recycling sector consistently demonstrate that they can stimulate these devices for recycling and are willing actors. To pursue other channels has proven to be inefficient and ineffective. We plan to stay vigilant in the face of the changing thermostat product adoption cycles and the evolving market forces. The reality is that these focuses are not dissimilar to where the program started twenty years ago. These core values of TRC will not and have not changed. No longer is mercury rising and we are proud to willingly have participated in its decline.

2017 ACCOUNTING OF THE PROGRAM EXPENSES

Listed in the table below is TRC's 2017 program expenses compared to 2016. 2017 program expenses are unaudited and are for management purposes only. Prior to submittal of this annual report, the expenses were reviewed by Halt, Buzas & Powell, LTD. A copy of TRC's 2016 IRS Form 990 appears in the appendix.

Program Component	2016	2017	% Change
Direct Expense for Marketing & Outreach	1,254,329	1,531,703	22%
Incentive/Promotional Payments	44,460	47,633	7%
Legal	30,952	219,878	610%
New Collection Containers	13,473	1,614	-88%
Recycling Costs	308,899	583,829	89%
Travel	79,259	58,332	-26%
TRC Staff and Administration	548,137	453,693	-17%
Total (expenses)	2,279,509	2,896,682	27%

The program's expenses increased by 27% in comparison to 2016. It is important to report that the program has seen an increase in expenses while the collection rate of thermostats has decreased. The increase in expenses doesn't match the thermostats collected rate (+/- 29%). The recycling program continues to become more expensive to acquire each incremental new thermostat.

New Collection Containers: 2017 marked a year in which the program did not need to order new recycling containers. The noticeable change in ordering bins is tied to the fact locations are returning bins which no longer see thermostats, the re-use of these bins, and the small pail option for collection points. This is in spite of the fact we sent over 500 new, green recycling containers.

Recycling Costs: As expected from last year's annual report, the costs to process thermostats increased by 89%. These costs are directly related to switching the processing facility to Veolia.

Clarification on classes for costs: TRC uses an accounting process in QuickBooks which allows the organization to code expenses to both account code and class. Classes set up for allocation include individual states, a "mandatory" classification, and a "national" classification.

These classifications allow TRC to attribute costs in an appropriate manner. For example, many times marketing activities are best done at the "mandatory" classification for economies of scale. If TRC engages a marketing activity geared towards multiple states (i.e.

a direct mail piece) then TRC will use this category to allocate costs to the “Mandatory” category. As a comparison, we’ve arranged our costs to show the costs of the “Mandatory” classification, “National” classification, and total 2017 expenses. TRC did not allocate any of these costs against state programs.

Program Component	Mandatory ($'s)	National ($'s)	Total Expenses ($'s)
Direct Expense for Marketing & Outreach	97,095	436,624	1,573,878

2017 EDUCATION AND OUTREACH

INTERNAL EMPLOYEE PROMOTION

Effective January 2018, Danielle Myers was promoted to Operations and Compliance Manager. She joined TRC in December 2016 as Executive Administrative Assistant & Office Manager. In her new position, she will be responsible for administrative and operations functions, while managing the processing facility's performance, reporting on issues and maintaining regulatory compliance. She holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Leadership, Ethics, and Organizational Sustainability from the prestigious Haub School of Business at Saint Joseph's University. She has been involved in the sustainability industry since 2013.

DIRECT MARKETING (EMAIL, MAIL, OTHER COMMUNICATIONS)

New Member Recruitment

In April of 2017, TRC wrote a press release announcing the newest members that had joined TRC to remain compliant with the Minnesota S.F. No. 2192. TRC mailed a letter along with the press release to 32 non-compliant companies inviting them to join the TRC if they are out of compliance, pertaining to the Minnesota state law requiring all thermostat manufacturers to be responsible for the costs of collecting and managing replaced mercury thermostats.

Current Collection Locations

Collection Containers - From Big Bins to Small Pails.

In 2017, TRC took a proactive step in mandatory states switching some collection locations' containers from a large bin to a small pail [Figure 1.0]. The criteria for the switch-out are locations who have sent their bin in for processing since the beginning of 2016 that contained 6 or less thermostats. These locations can choose to continue using the green bin, but our hope is that we can increase the return rate of our containers with this small pail offering. In theory, the container would fill up quicker and encourage the location to send back sooner. Prior to the strategy being deployed, TRC spoke with the regulatory agencies within California, Maine, and Vermont for a pre-approval of this concept. It was met with fanfare.

In 2017, TRC shipped 334 small pails to collection points around the country. These entities either requested the new container when they signed up to participate in the program or were switched out with the campaign mentioned prior.

The large, green bins which have been the staple of the program, continued to place throughout the country. Often times these new bin orders coincide with accounts that open new stores, move or lose their existing containers. Because the containers are re-used, we anticipate that the request for new containers will continue to decrease as the program operates. In 2017, TRC shipped 509 new green bins. In comparison, the program shipped 635 new bins in 2016.

Collection Location Outbound Phone Calls

These calls have been branded internally as the “Miss You Call” process. These calls promote collection container returns and in 2017, these calls were handled more efficiently. TRC reallocated resources for miss you calls to collection sites, in mandatory states, that have not returned stock-filled bins in over a year. This valuable tactic for bin retrieval normally took between five to twelve hours of an internal TRC employee’s time each month. During the course of each call, a TRC representative would offer to schedule a next-day FedEx pick-up for forgotten bins and have it shipped to Veolia for processing.

Now, these calls are outsourced to the Regus Property Management representatives and Intelligent Office. By outsourcing the work, TRC has amplified its call time to 25 hours a month, and increased the number of bins returned.

The accumulation of these changes has netted the program an increase of 563 calls over 2016. In total, the program called 2,373 current collection locations in 2017.

Collection Location Postcards

Over 13,000 postcards were sent this year to collection locations that haven't shipped a bin in the past year, a 50% increase from 2016.

New for 2017, TRC emailed locations three weeks after receiving a postcard to encourage them to directly ship the container. This email campaign was sent to 2,799 locations.

Collection Location Site Visits

1,698 site visits were completed in California, Connecticut, Illinois, Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, and Vermont. The purpose of site visits is to inform the location of their requirements in participation, what the statute requires of them, shipment of the recycling container, and to answer any questions they may have. Often times, valuable intel is gathered during the site visit which is used to enhance TRC's outreach and other tactics.

Merchandising in-store displays

In 2014, TRC developed branded merchandise displays for its recycling containers. The purpose of the displays is to enhance the visibility and accessibility of the program to contractors at HVAC wholesale locations. Throughout 2017, TRC distributed free branded cardboard displays to HVAC wholesale distributor collection locations to showcase the TRC container. The program continues to discuss and offer these displays to requesting locations. Most of the new requests have diminished but we continue to fulfill replacement needs.

HVAC Industry

The HVAC industry is arguably still the best, most productive and most engaged channel for recycling mercury containing thermostats. We consider this industry to be the manufacturers, wholesale distributors, and contractors which are intimately involved with the recovery of mercury thermostats.

BMOP Competition Announcement

In April, TRC announced the start of the 2017 Big Man on Planet (BMOP) Competition in a mailing to 1,034 HVAC wholesale locations.

TRC Contributed to the HVAC Industry Statement and Recommendations in Flood Zones

This educational informative piece was authored by the Air Conditioning Contractors of America (ACCA), Air Conditioning, Heating, and Refrigeration Institute (AHRI) and Heating, Air-Conditioning, Refrigeration Distributors International (HARDI). TRC contributed specific content on recycling mercury thermostats. The piece acted as a mailing in Texas and Florida after flooding due to hurricanes [Figure 1.1]. In addition to this piece, Industry experts representing the heating, ventilation, and air conditioning (HVAC) industry released a statement and guidelines regarding flood zones, air conditioning equipment, and hot water heaters. The statement was sent to national publications such as the Washington Post and Good Morning America.

HARDI wholesale branch location clean-out mailings.

TRC mailed over 1,000 direct letters to wholesale distributors in mandatory states to remind them to write off old mercury thermostat stock and recycle the new in box products. Many thermostats manufactured prior to 2007 contained mercury and the sale of these devices have been banned by many states. Most distributors had written-off stranded inventory of mercury thermostats, but it was possible that these units were yet to be disposed of and may remain at either branch or central distribution locations. TRC provided materials such as a template of an internal memo to help facilitate this process.

We also reminded them that any mercury thermostats returned from the branches would count towards the Big Man on Planet Competition.

HVAC Educators Training

TRC contracted with an HVAC/R icon, Warren Lupson on helping TRC reach into the next generation of HVAC/R technicians. During the calendar year of 2017, Warren presented information on the recycling program to:

- Alabama Council of Air Conditioning Educators (ACARE) on July 20-21st. The Alabama CARE, hosted by Alabama Power, has a turnout of almost 100% of the state approved school instructors. There were 31 instructors from schools that teach HVAC/R, 8 from the different Alabama Power (Southern Co) HVACR training Centers, 4 wholesalers and some Alabama school officials. From the presentation, there were commitments from 31 instructors that they will put up the TRC posters in their classrooms.

Utility Industry

In 2017, TRC refined its approach on how to engage the utility sector. After a few years of networking, work within the industry and research, it had become apparent to TRC that this sector had three very distinct pathways to pursue. They were the utility companies themselves, the installer/implementer, and community action agencies. Each of these audiences have distinct messaging requirements and informational needs. With these learnings, TRC took the following actions:

1. Purchased research on energy efficiency projects geared towards thermostat replacements and rebates/incentives
2. Attended the Building Owners Management Association national trade show
3. Attended the NJ based PSEG networking event in Newark, NJ which pulled in the Mid-Atlantic utilities companies such as PA and NY based utilities
4. On 6/23, sent an informational email to known utility implementers on the program
5. On 5/23, sent informational email on thermostat recycling to the DOE weatherization program
6. Directly marketed to 392 community action agencies and NGO's which included technical requirements through the NREL. These requirements were directed toward the Standard Work Specifications through the federal DOE and can be located at <https://sws.nrel.gov/spec/531041>.
7. Attended AESP (Association of Energy Services Professionals) and NEUAC and exhibited at NARUC (National Association Regulatory Utility Commissioners) conferences

Household Hazardous Waste (HHW) Industry

Not unlike the utility industry, TRC spent time with the waste-related sector. These attempts were to gain new collection locations, form better relationships with the audience and raise overall awareness of the TRC program. Because of these learnings, TRC took the following actions:

- TRC staff joined the National North American Hazardous Materials Management Association monthly planning committee.
 - Sent a letter to the Energy Recovery Council (ERC) to form a better relationship with its members. ERC is a national trade organization that represents the waste-to-energy industry and communities that own waste-to-energy facilities. Current ERC members own and operate a vast majority of the 77-modern waste-to-energy facilities that operate nationwide, safely disposing of municipal solid waste, while at the same time generating renewable electricity using state-of-the-art technology. ERC's members include Covanta, Wheelabrator and other waste to energy plants. The direct communication hopes to open communication of collaborating and diverting mercury prior to waste-to-energy activities.
 - TRC staff attended and presented at the Association of New Jersey Household Hazardous Waste Coordinators meeting.
 - TRC agreed to formally send to Earth 911 a location list of TRC collection points to promote on its website nearby collection locations.
 - Scoured google alerts for new HHW facilities openings or events to target phone call or email outreach to encourage them to use program. Alerts included articles titled:
 - "Households drop off tens of thousands of pounds of hazardous waste for Delmar safe disposal/recycling"
 - "'Catch-all' recycling event Saturday at fairgrounds"
 - "Hazardous home wastes collected on Oct. 7"
 - Wheelabrator mailing to plants. With TRC's existing relationship with a similar waste-to-energy (WTE) giant Covanta TRC reached to Wheelabrator locations in the northeast corridor, offering to provide them with our recycling containers. A total of ten plants were communicated to - two in Connecticut, three in Massachusetts, one in New Hampshire, three in New York, and one in Pennsylvania.

ADVERTISING

Trademarked Logo

In the summer, TRC submitted paperwork to offer trademark protections on its two versions of its logo. The trademark would cement Thermostat Recycling Corporation's business operations and also the branding associated with its logo. In early August TRC received confirmation that the U.S. Trademark Office has received its applications to register its trademarks, and assigned the filing dates and serial numbers. Although the logo was not redesigned, the trademarking process is great way to prove credibility to the organization. [Figure 1.2] demonstrates the application serial numbers submitted.

New Creative

TRC, in conjunction with its advertising agency, designed new marketing creative. The creative advertising was developed around recognition of the wallpaper behind a mercury thermostat and the messaging of “protecting your family” from the dangers of improperly disposed of mercury thermostats. [Figure 1.3]

TRC also redesigned both its large trade show booth and tabletop display for the 2018 trade show schedule. [Figure 1.4]

Print Advertising

In the summer, TRC redesigned its window clings and stickers. These pieces are included in each new collection container shipment, effectively updating the old materials. [Figure 1.5]

Spanish Translations of Marketing Collateral

TRC's marketing collateral was converted to be available in Spanish, as well as English on our website. Items such as posters and brochures were updated in hopes of reaching audiences we haven't in the past. [Figure 1.6]

National Association Regulatory Utility Commissioners (NARUC) Sponsorship

In addition to attending seminars and exhibiting, TRC was a sponsor of NARUC's 129th Annual Meeting and Education Conference held in Baltimore. TRC's intent was to spread awareness the recycling program and coordinate efforts which would lead to utility companies being required to include the recycling of mercury thermostats in their request for proposals. Digital Advertising

The digital advertising was a combination of digital video, display, and Google AdWords. These ran on YouTube (video) and in website ad networks that are grouped by category like "Green Living" or "Working Man." These ad networks are made up of any number of dozens of sites that appeal to a particular type of person, the environmentalist or the contractor, for instance.

Google AdWords

In 2017, Google AdWords were optimized via paid search. TRC bid on keyword terms and phrases in order to have our paid placement appear at the top of search result pages on Google.

Social Media

In 2017, TRC took a more active role creating and sharing content via its LinkedIn, Twitter, and Facebook pages. The engagement helped raise awareness of the program and enhanced important relationships throughout TRC target audiences. Some examples include:

BMOP Contest Facebook Promotion [Figure 1.11]

- 1,553 reached
- 627 engagements

Earth Month Social Media Blitz

In honor of April's Earth Month, TRC developed a general public awareness ad that was distributed to all TRC members through representatives on the newly-formed marketing committee. Many members posted the graphic on their own social media outlets to help broadcast the TRC message. Additionally, TRC posted a blog on its website in support of the ad and issued a press release to media in the Philadelphia region in hopes of garnering additional attention. [Figure 1.12]

America Recycles Day

November 15 was America Recycles Day. TRC took part in the Keep America Beautiful initiative by raising awareness about the value and benefits of reducing, reusing and recycling via social media, as well as supporting our collection partners in their efforts.

Executive Director Authored Blogs

On TRC's website and the TRC LinkedIn account, the Executive Director authored four unique blog posts on topics ranging from best practices for trade shows, TRC's data learnings, and recycling.

Earned Media

- TRC's member, Burnham Holdings ran an article authored by TRC entitled, "How to Profit with Mercury Thermostat Recycling".

Press Releases

- On March 02, 2017, TRC released the "TRC Names Franklin Energy Services Illinois' Collection Partner of the Month".
- On April 20, 2017, TRC released the "Thermostat Recycling Corporation (TRC) Announces Addition of First Non-Mercury Thermostat Manufacturers to Its Membership".
- On May 31, 2017, TRC released the "TRC Major Announcement: Big Man on Planet Competition Registration Deadline Moved to June 31st".
- On Jul 13, 2017, TRC released the "MAJOR ANNOUNCEMENT: TRC Changes Eligibility for 2017 BMOP Competition and Announces Two New Contest Categories".
- On Aug 23, 2017, TRC released the "Chittenden County, VT., Leads Nation's Household Hazardous Waste Sector in Recycling Mercury Thermostats".
- On Oct 19, 2017, TRC released the "Thermostat Recycling Corporation and Wheelabrator Technologies Team Up to Recycle Mercury Thermostats in Massachusetts".
- On Dec 05, 2017, TRC released the "TRC Announces 2017 Big Man on Planet Competition Winners".

TRC Website

TRC has maintained a website for several years. In 2017, updated two specific features on its website.

1. TRC sign up form enhancement.

With the revelation of the new pail offering for collection sites, TRC updated it's sign up form to consolidate incoming container orders. The form consolidates location types and integrates all the information requests onto one form. There now is a one-page form for small pails and a large green bin order form. These changes streamline the process for locations ordering containers. The website was a direct beneficiary of this change by allowing for the new location to understand the sign-up easier.

2. Logic for displaying collection locations.

In the past, the database informed the zip code finder which locations to display. The logic for displaying available locations which collect mercury thermostats was very complicated and cumbersome. In 2017, we reduced the complexity by allowing our database to create a static check mark option for displaying on the website. This enhancement was a direct result of locations which were concerned about displaying to the public, HHW's which had complicated location management, and HVAC contractors which did or did not want to be displayed.

2017 Trade Shows, Conferences, And Presentations

TRC staff attended, exhibited, sponsored and/or presented at the following national events:

Date	Event	Location	Description
January
30th -1st	Air-Conditioning, Heating, and Refrigeration Institute Expo	Las Vegas, NV	TRC staff attended and exhibited at the largest HVAC Expo in the world.
February
1st-2nd	Efficiency Vermont	Burlington, VT	TRC attended the event and networked with VT current and prospective collection locations.
13th - 16th	Association of Energy Service Professionals (AESP)	Orlando, FL	AESP is the premier organization for professionals in the energy efficiency industry. Over 300 industry professionals attend the event including utility professionals and industry advisors/implementers.
March
19th	ECOS (Environmental Council of States) Webinar Presentation	Internet/Computer	TRC presented to interested parties an update on the collection program.
19th-22nd	Home Performance Coalition	Nashville, TN	TRC attended the conference and joined over one thousand residential energy efficiency professionals for networking.
20th-22nd	IE3: Indoor Environment & Energy Expo	Nashville, TN	This expo is the largest marketplace for the indoor environmental and energy services contracting industry. TRC staff exhibited and promoted the program to attending HVAC contractors.
27th	Mass Recycle Event	Framingham, MA	TRC exhibited at Recycling & Organics Conference & Trade Show, the biggest annual recycling and organics conference in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

OTHER ENGAGEMENT

Product Stewardship Institute (PSI)

TRC worked in collaboration with PSI throughout the year of 2017 by being a panelist on two webinars, contributing the TRC name to outreach efforts in which PSI was awarded through the USDA, and by speaking at the PSI bi-annual Forum held in Boston, MA. TRC staff Ryan Kiscaden, Danielle Myers, and Tom Murray shared their expertise for these various presentation platforms.

Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) expert, Tom Murray, represented TRC as a presenter for the Product Stewardships Institute's (PSI) April 19th webinar. Murray, specifically, gave a historical overview about mercury and underscored the heightened role of industries, such as combustion coal, contributing to environmental contamination. Murray also detailed how TRC works in conjunction with statewide regulatory programs throughout the U.S., and explained that mercury-containing thermostats is an issue with an end in sight.

Ryan Kiscaden presented at the PSI's bi-annual forum (July) on the subject of mercury thermostat collections present and future. At this event, he introduced the concepts of which mercury thermostats largely are collected from (boiler systems in cold, very-cold climate zones) and his vision for the future collection program's focus.

Danielle Myers administered the webinar in which industry and government entities shared ways to improve outreach and education to increase recycling and decrease waste. From print media (such as flyers and brochures) to web-based media (such as social platforms, video, and infographics), outreach and education the webinar detailed proven ways at increasing thermostat collection.

TRC lent its name to PSI grant proposal “Reducing the Impact of HHW on Water Resources in Low-income, Rural Communities” directed to the USDA and also contributed thought leadership time on best ways to approach rural communities. PSI’s grant attempted to place recycling containers with the following areas:

1. Alutiiq Tribe of Old Harbor, AK
2. Del Norte County, CA
3. Inyo County, CA
4. Lassen County, CA
5. Mendocino County, CA
6. Hazard, KY
7. Town of Lincoln (in Penobscot County), ME
8. Town of Hartwick, NY
9. Malheur County, OR
10. Walden, VT
11. Chelsea, VT
12. Woodbury, VT
13. Quilcene, WA
14. Brinnon, WA
15. Klickitat County, WA

At the end of 2017, TRC signed a letter of support for PSI to apply for similar USDA grants. The letter dated December 18, 2017 detailed the support of the Product Stewardship Institute’s application for funding through the (USDA) Rural Utilities Services’ fiscal year 2018 Solid Waste Management Program.

PROMOTIONAL CAMPAIGNS

Big Man on Planet Competition

HARDI members, comprising more than 1,000 distributor locations nationwide, competed against one another for top honors. In 2017, TRC had 102 Wholesale Members participate in the competition (compared to 24 the year before), who collected a whopping 370.95 lbs. of mercury during May 1st through October 31st. Winners were announced at HARDI’s annual conference, December 2nd – 5th, in Las Vegas.

The 2017 BMOP Award winners were as follows:

TOP PRIZE WINNERS

- Most amount of mercury recycled overall (157.16 pounds) – Johnstone Supply, National
- Highest average amount of mercury recycled (12.3566 pounds) – Tower Equipment, Connecticut
- Highest participation rate for distributors with over 10 locations (92%) – Johnson Supply, Texas and Louisiana [Figure 1.14]

TOP 3 BRANCHES FOR RECYCLING

- Tower Equipment - Stratford, Connecticut (12.3566 lbs.)
- Johnstone Supply - Appleton, Wisconsin (6.6588 lbs.)
- Johnstone Supply - Columbus, Ohio (4.774 lbs.)

MVP AWARD

- Aireco Supply Co. (11 lbs. of mercury across 22 locations)

ROCK STAR AWARD

- Aireco Supply Co.
- APR Supply Co.
- Auer Steel & Heating Supply
- Corken Steel Products Co.
- Crescent Parts & Equipment Co.

- Duncan Supply Co.
- Ferguson Enterprises
- Gustave A. Larson
- GW Berkheimer Co.
- Harry Alter Co.
- Johnson Controls UPG Parts Store

2018 PROGRAM MODIFICATIONS

Thermostat Recycling Corporation's 2018 Goals

TRC has continued to set high level annual goals for the organization. These goals assist in decision making and prioritization of activities. For the calendar year of 2018 TRC plans to focus on:

1. Continuing to fulfill state statutory requirements, agreements and other arrangements for regulatory compliance.
2. Targeting mercury thermostat collections at (3) key industries; Utilities, waste-related sector, and HVAC. Other key audiences vary by state and requirements.
3. Finishing business intelligence upgrades to systematizing operations and data reporting.
4. Elevating the TRC staff by investing in skills, experiences and continuing educational opportunities.
5. Maintaining and building relationships with key stakeholders (regulatory, members, collection points, and vendors)

In addition to these goals, TRC set specific tasks which we plan to focus on. Completion of these tasks aids in the overall organization's goals.

1. Finalize new database. These enhancements to our database include:
 - Tracking small bins
 - Tracking clear vs. green liners
 - Consolidating all CRM's into one package
 - Importation of all historical data
 - Overlaying collections to climate zone
2. Develop and finalize utility industry specific marketing collateral.

This industry will require three specific pieces of collateral. The pieces will be geared towards the utilities themselves, the installers/implementers, and the community action agencies. The collateral will be valuable leave behind materials for upcoming trade shows and direct marketing initiatives.

3. Look for opportunities to switch collection points to small pails.

The staple green recycling container will remain an option for all collection locations. This container has been a part of the organization's branding, its mechanism for compliance, and is the largest container available in meeting DOT shipping regulations for universal waste. However, a smaller recycling container can help resolve rural collection issues and provide an additional, perhaps desirable collection mechanism for others.

4. Audit our processing facility every other year.

TRC gained great operating efficiencies by walking the processing floor and looking for ways to improve the program's performance. The processing center was audited in 2017 and we plan to audit in 2019.

5. Attend 2018 events such as trade shows and conferences.

Arguably, one of the best avenues for TRC. Continuing to grow relationships while displaying our wares, networking, and attending conferences continues to be a great investment for the program. Below is a list of events which TRC likely will attend or exhibit at.

- Attend and integrate learnings from other EPR products after Executive Director in-person meetings.

TRC attends an in-person meeting in which other EPR products (paint, batteries, mattresses) also directly participate in. This meeting occurs throughout the year. TRC has derived great share-able best practices by attending these meetings and always learns something new to implement into its recycling program.

- Announce the organization's 20TH anniversary of operation.

Twenty years went by very fast. We are proud to have operated for 20 years. We plan to release this news via a press release, social media and possibly earned media. The celebration is official on October 24th but we plan to acknowledge all year.

- Build a hypothesis library.

Throughout the year, great ideas on how to modify the program are raised. A hypothesis library will allow TRC to track these ideas, develop and test them. We view this as the best curator for new innovations at the organization. It is possible items which are brainstormed using this process will be developed and fully implemented in 2018 or developed for future years.

- Target smart home automation installers with outreach and awareness.

The burgeoning marketing for IoT (internet of things) connected devices is a fast-growing market. There are many new players such as Amazon, Best Buy and Cable TV providers that are getting into the installation and sales of these new smart products. It is undetermined which entities will be installing these products.

10. Practice the internal TRC Sustainability policy.

TRC has created a sustainability policy and guidelines that support TRC as an environmental nonprofit. Some of the initiatives are:

- Using 2-sided and grayscale defaults for all office printers
- Using recycled paper 100% of the time for printing internal documents
- 100% of all marketing material printed on recycled products

11. Update the TRC website.

The project will be to enhance the searchability through Google for TRC's website. In turn, by strengthening the SEO of the website, should allow for an increase of the digital Google AdWords spend by the terms we buy to be efficient. In addition to SEO enhancement, the website will undergo a content re-organization which will tailor itself to the user's experience on the website. In theory, it should be more user-friendly.

12. Roll-out editorial releases.

NEW YORK

2017 COLLECTIONS AND EVALUATION

SECTION 0: Program Overview

The following analytical report details the annual program performance for mercury thermostat collection in the state of New York (NY) in 2017. A few of the program highlights for 2017 are included below:

- In 2017 the program collected 84.9 pounds of mercury in NY. Since 2008, the annual pounds of mercury collected in NY has increased by an average of 23% per year. During the same period, the pounds of mercury collected nationally increased by 4% per year.
- The program collected 7,703 whole thermostats in 2017. This was a 32% increase over the number of thermostats collected in 2016 and a 104% increase from 10 years ago. The increase in number of thermostats collected annually in NY was an average of 28% since 2000.
- The number of whole thermostats collected per bin in 2017 was 38 thermostats. This was below the 18-year state average of 63 thermostats per bin.
- The counties with the most bins and thermostats returned in 2017 were Queens (20 bins, 1,543 thermostats), Monroe (20 bins, 1,273 thermostats), and Nassau (19 bins, 735 thermostats). There were 40 total counties in New York that returned at least one bin in 2017.
- In 2017, 29% of the partner locations returned at least one bin compared to a national average of 32%.
- A total of 112 site visits were conducted in NY and 326 ‘Miss You’ calls were placed in 2017. There is no statistical relationship between number of calls or visits and the number of bins returned.
- In addition to the 7,703 whole thermostats returned, 618 loose switches were collected, bringing the total number of “thermostat equivalents” returned in 2017 to 8,124, an increase of 12% from 2016.

SECTION 1: Program Analytics

Section 1 of this report examines the annual performance of the thermostat collection recycling program in terms of bins, thermostats, and mercury collected as well as the year-over-year progression of the program.

On average, the program has collected 33.1 pounds of mercury and 3,374 whole thermostats per year since 2000. In 2017 the program collected 84.9 pounds of mercury from 7,703 whole thermostats and 618 loose switches. Figure 1.1 displays the total number of bins collected, the total number of thermostats, and the total pounds of mercury collected in the state since the beginning of the program.

Figure 1.2 displays the number of bins collected in the state since initiation of the collection program, as well as the total number of bins collected in the U.S. over the same period. In 2000, when the program began, only 5 bins were returned. The following year the bin count jumped to 22 and continued to rise into the 30s in subsequent years. From 2006 to 2013, the number of bins collected bounced between a high in the 50s to a low in the 30s. A large jump in bin collection occurred in 2014, when 78 bins were collected. This was followed by another large increase in 2015 with 201 bins returned, a state high. In 2017, 204 bins were returned, the most bins ever returned.

In NY, the pounds of mercury collected in 2017 increased by 42% over 2016 levels.

Since 2008, the average of annual increases of mercury collected in NY is 23%. During the same period, the pounds of mercury collected nationally increased by 4% per year. Figure 1.3 displays the total number of pounds of mercury collected in the state over time as well as the year-over-year percent increase (or decrease) in the state and the U.S. as a whole.

The state of NY collected 7,703 thermostats in 2017. This was a 32% increase over the number of thermostats collected in 2016 and an 104% increase in the last decade. The number of thermostats collected annually in NY has increased by an average of 18% per year since 2008. During the same period, the number of thermostats collected in the U.S. has increased by an annual average rate of 4%. Figure 1.4 displays the total number of thermostats collected in the state and nationally, and Figure 1.5 shows the underlying data as well as the calculated annual percent change.

Figure 1.6 displays the monthly distribution of bins and thermostats collected in the state in 2017. The months with the greatest number of bins returned were May (64 bins), April (35 bins), and June (21 bins). The months with the greatest number of thermostats returned were May (1,890 thermostats), April (1,443 thermostats), and August (778 thermostats). Conversely, the months with the fewest number of thermostats returned in 2017 were September and November.

The highest numbers of thermostats returned per bin were in February (68) and July (58). Figure 1.7 shows the monthly average of thermostats per returned bin for the year.

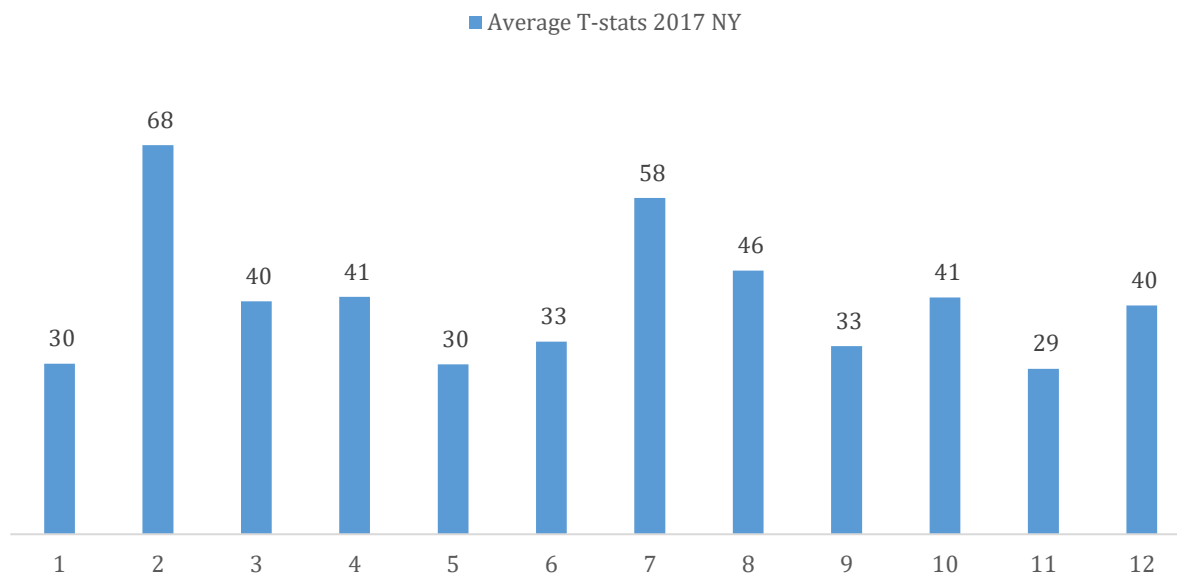

Figure 1.8 displays the average number of thermostats returned per bin in NY and in the U.S. since the beginning of the state program. Nationally, the number of thermostats per bin has decreased since 2000. In 2000, the average number of thermostats per bin returned in NY (94 thermostats per bin avg.) was similar to the national average (98 thermostats per bin avg.), but the state's average dropped substantially in the following year to 61 thermostats per bin, well below the national average of 92 in 2001. From 2001 to 2014, the NY average remained fairly consistent, while the national average continued to decrease. Between 2009 and 2014, the NY average was greater than the national average. In 2015, the average in the state dropped nearly 50% from 61 to 32, and once again the state of NY fell below the national average. In 2017, the average rose slightly to 38, still below the national average.

FIGURE 1.8: AVERAGE NUMBER OF THERMOSTATS PER BIN OVER TIME IN THE STATE AND NATIONALLY

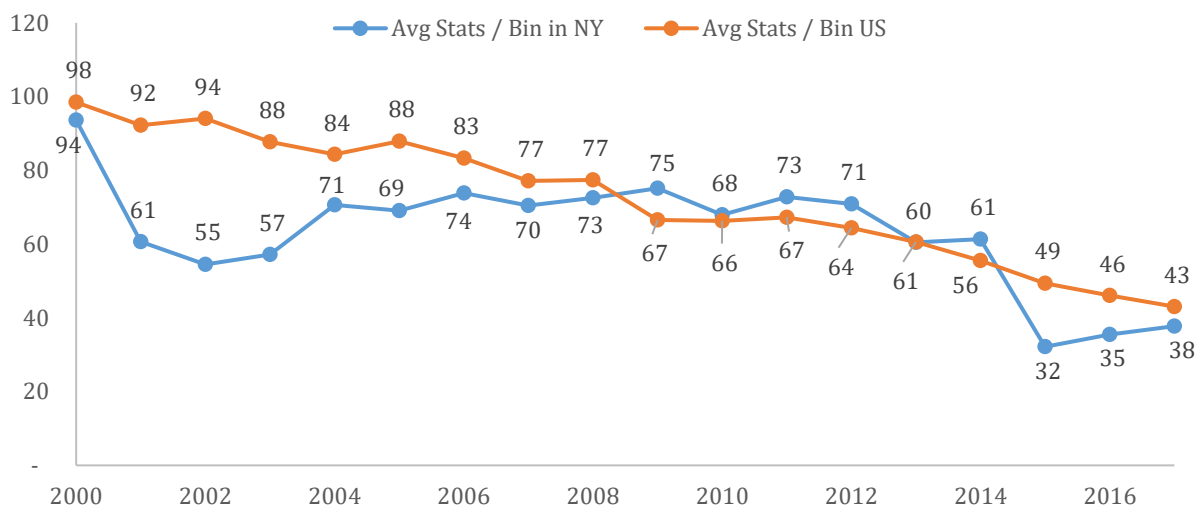

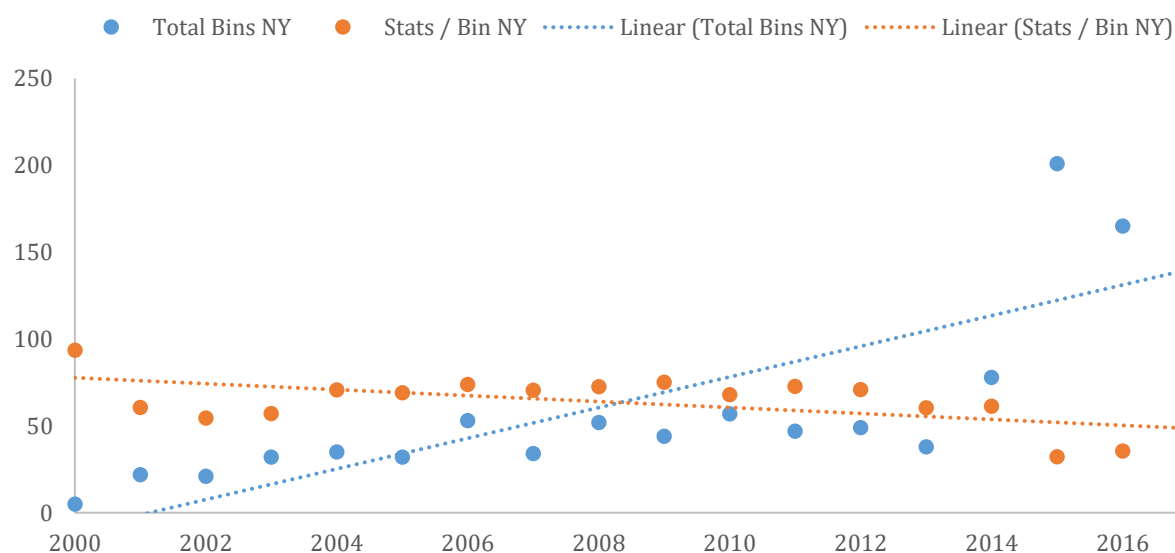

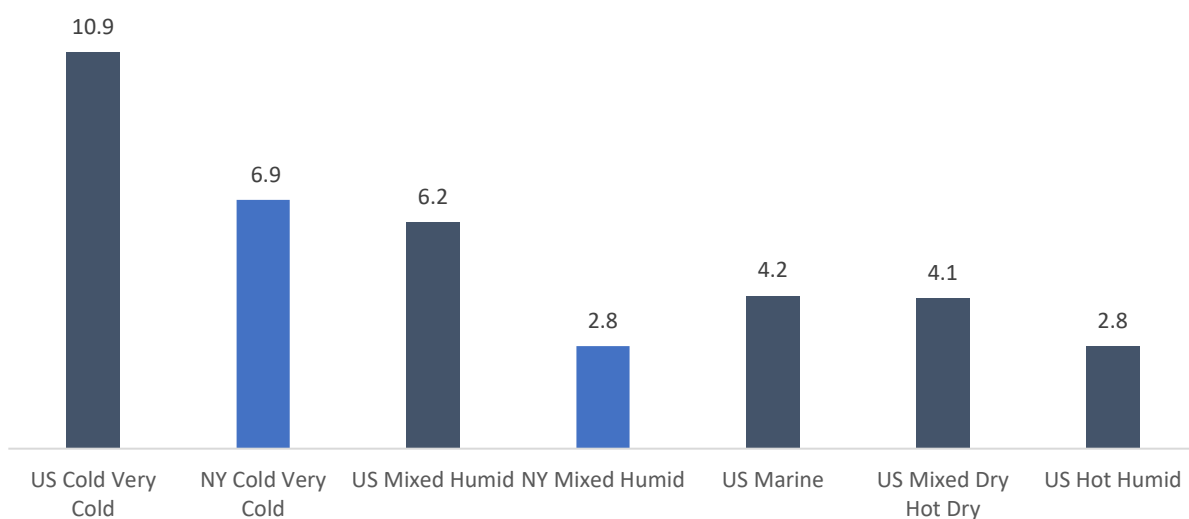

Figure 1.9 plots the total bins returned over time along with the average number of thermostats per bin over the same period to determine a relationship between the two. As the total number of returned bins increased, the number of thermostats per bin decreased, particularly in the last three years. The number of bins returned in 2015-2017 were the highest ever recorded in NY. In 2015, the number of bins returned was a 158% increase over 2014 levels. In those same years, however, the number of thermostats per bin was approximately half the 18-year average.

A climate zone analysis on number of thermostats returned per 10,000 residents was conducted. These zones were defined using the criteria from the U.S. Department of Energy Building America Program. These criteria are coded by county. The state is in two climate zones: cold very cold and mixed humid. Figure 1.10 shows that the state returned 6.9 thermostats per 10,000 residents in the cold very cold zone and 2.8 thermostats per 10,000 residents in the mixed humid zone, both of which were under the national averages for those climate zones. Nationally, the cold very cold zone returned significantly more thermostats (10.9 thermostats per 10,000 residents) than the next highest zone, the mixed humid zone (6.2 thermostats per 10,000 residents).

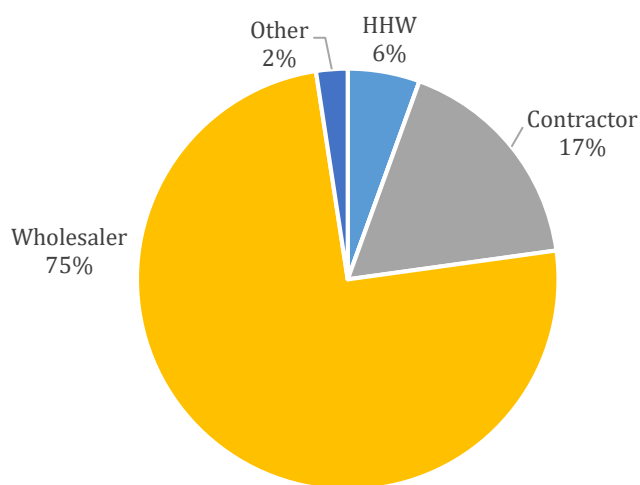

FIGURE 1.10: THERMOSTATS RETURNED PER 10,000 RESIDENTS BY CLIMATE ZONE

SECTION 2: Channel Partner Analysis

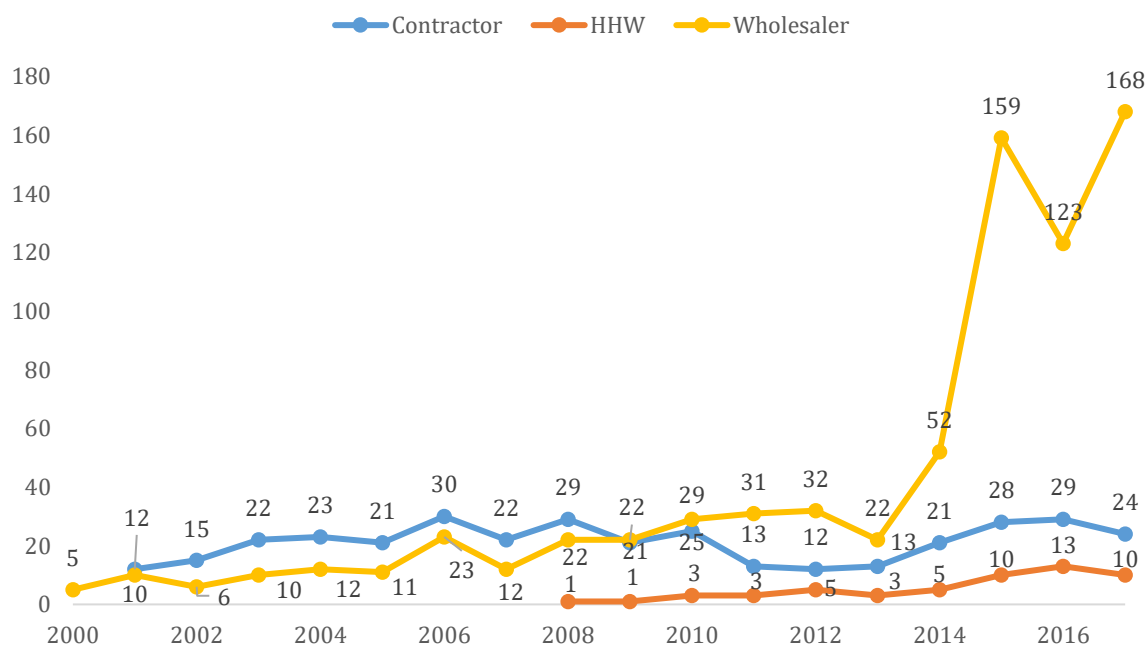

Section 2 of the report examines the partner locations in more detail. Most thermostats collected in the state were through wholesalers (75%) with the remaining thermostats collected by contractors (17%), household hazardous waste facilities (6%) and other facilities (2%). Figure 2.1 shows the distribution of thermostats collected by location type in 2017.

The number of bins returned by NY wholesalers increased from 123 bins in 2016 to 168 bins in 2017. The number of bins returned by contractors decreased from 29 to 24, and the number returned by household hazardous waste facilities decreased from 13 bins to 10 from 2016 to 2017. Figure 2.2 displays the change in the number of bins returned by thermostat collection type over time in the state.

In 2017, 29% of the locations that had a bin in the state of NY sent back at least one bin for recycling. The distribution is displayed in Figure 2.3.

An analysis of the top performing counties revealed that Queens (20 bins, 1,543 thermostats), Monroe (20 bins, 1,273 thermostats), and Nassau (19 bins, 735 thermostats) returned the greatest number of bins and thermostats in 2017. Figure 2.4 displays the total bins and thermostats returned by county in 2017.

TRC channel partner Economy Refrigeration (1,353 thermostats) returned the highest number of thermostats in the state in 2017. R. E. Michel Company (910 thermostats), Irr Supply (724 thermostats), and Johnstone Supply (558 thermostats) returned more than 500 thermostats each. Apart from these locations, 12 program partners returned more than 100 thermostats each, 36 program partners returned 10 or more thermostats each, and 15 partners returned fewer than 10 thermostats. Figure 2.5 displays the top performing partners in terms of total bins returned in 2017.

TRC conducted several activities in 2017 as a way to increase the number of bins and thermostats returned in the state. These activities included site visits and ‘miss you’ calls to collection locations that may not have returned a bin recently. In 2017, a total of 112 site visits were conducted in NY and 326 ‘miss you’ calls were placed. Figure 2.7 displays the relationship between the number of site visits per month, the bins returned per month, and the number of thermostats (in 100’s) returned per month. Site visits occurred in May and June, and half of all bins returned by visited locations were returned in those months. Locations that did not receive a call or visit returned 18% of total bins in those months.

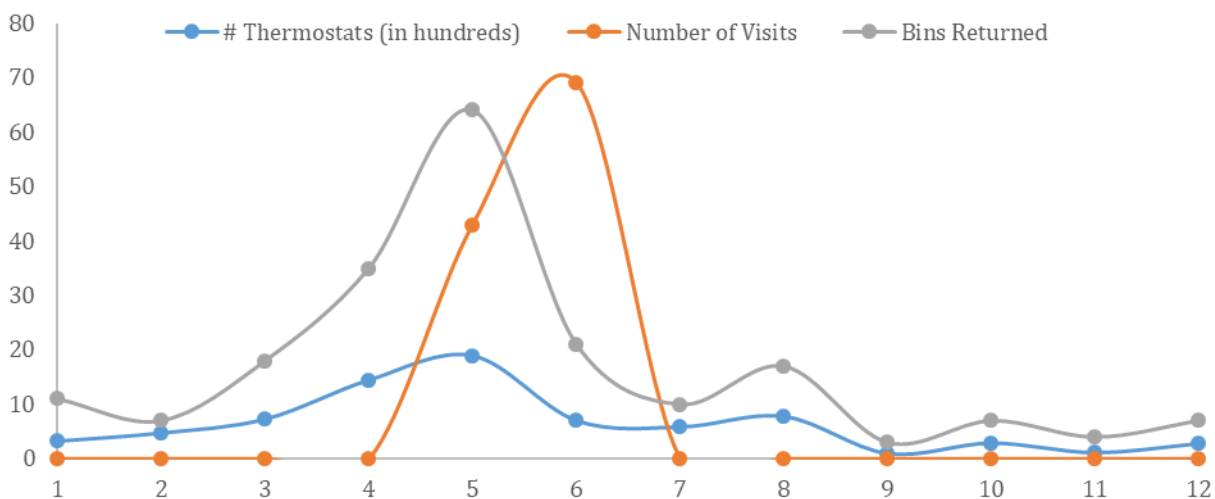

Figure 2.8 displays the relationship between the number of calls, the bins returned, and the number of thermostats (by 100's) returned by month. A statistically significant relationship could not be determined between the two variables. The majority of calls occurred in April and the highest number of bin returns occurred the following month in May. Of the 64 total bins returned in May 41 came from locations that received a call. Called locations returned half of all the bins in 2017 in that month.

FIGURE 2.8: RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN 'MISS YOU' CALLS AND BINS AND THERMOSTATS RETURNED PER MONTH

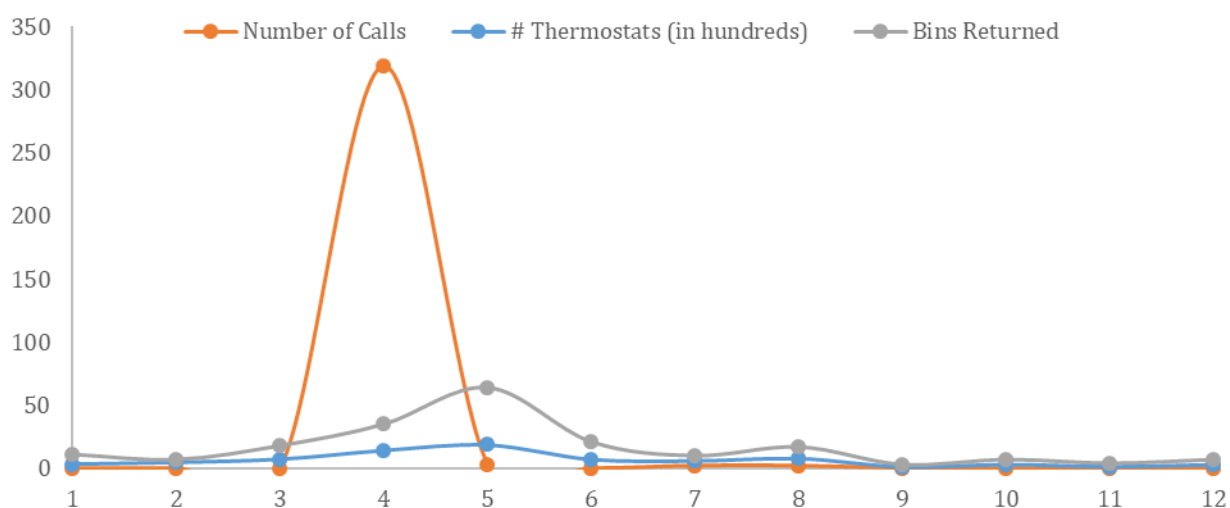

Figure 2.9 examines the return rates of four groups – locations that did not receive a call or visit, locations that received at least one visit, locations that received at least one call, and locations that received both a call and visit. The rate of active participation (which refers to locations that returned at least one bin) in 2017 is greater for locations that received some sort of reminder compared to locations that received no reminder. Locations that received both a call and visit had the highest active participation rate at 59% compared to 23% for locations that did not receive either. Visited locations had an active participation rate of 49%, and locations that only received a call had an active participation rate of 25%.

SECTION 3: Comparisons to National and Other States' Performance

To compare how the state collection partners performed in 2017, the national average for the number of bins returned per locations that returned at least one bin was calculated and compared to the state average since 2012. The average number of bins does not include locations that did not return any bins in a given year. It should be noted that when making comparisons each state has different regulations, different mix of housing types, local policies, and incentives that may have a unique impact on returns. Overall, the average number of bins returned per location per year was lower in NY than the U.S. average, as shown in Figure 3.1.

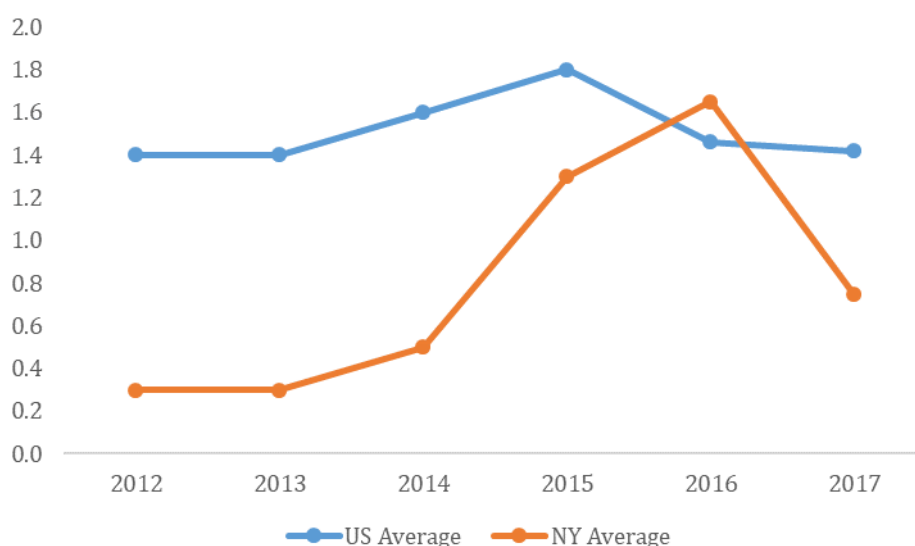

Figure 3.2 displays the top performing TRC locations in NY since 2014, and Figure 3.3 displays the top partners in the U.S. over the same period by number of bins returned. Johnstone Supply, Sid Harvey Industries, R.E. Michel Company and United Refrigeration are partners that appear on both the state and the national lists.

Figure 3.4 displays total percentage of locations that actively participated in the program (active participation defined as sending back at least one bin) in 2017, for all the states that mandate thermostat returns reporting as well as the U.S. national average for all states (reporting and non-reporting). In 2017, 29% of the locations in NY returned at least one bin compared to a national average of 32%. The highest percentage of locations returning a bin in 2017 amongst states that mandate thermostat returns reporting was Rhode Island (61%).

Figure 3.5 compares state and national rates for several analytics in 2017. These include: total whole thermostats, bins, and loose switches collected, number of thermostats collected by total locations and per actively participating locations, number of thermostats per bin returned on average in 2017, equivalent average, number of mercury thermostat equivalents returned in 2017 and finally percent change in mercury thermostat conversion from 2016 to 2017. The equivalent average is an average of the number of switches in whole thermostats collected in the state, and it is used to calculate the number of thermostats represented by returned loose switches. The thermostat equivalent number includes the totals of whole thermostats returned plus the number of thermostats estimated from loose switches. The states displayed are those that mandate thermostat returns reporting and the U.S. average is for all states that return bins (reporting and non-reporting).

Figure 3.6 further compares this state and national data by showing how each state ranked in each of these categories, from highest to lowest. New York ranked in the top half and above the U.S. average for whole thermostats, bins, equivalent average, and thermostat equivalents in 2017. The state also ranked in the top half for loose switches and percent change in thermostat equivalents over 2016. The states compared are those that mandate thermostat returns reporting and the U.S. average is for all states that return bins (reporting and non-reporting).

2017 COLLECTIONS BY BRAND

In New York, Thermostat Recycling Corporation (TRC) recovered the equivalent of 8,124 mercury thermostats from 7,703 whole mercury thermostats plus 618 mercury switches removed from thermostats. A total of 84.90 pounds of mercury was diverted from solid waste. *Please note the explanation of the converted thermostats or thermostat equivalents below.³ An example of the mercury ampoule is shown in [Figure 4.0].

As required by the state statute, a table of thermostat brand holder with the corresponding thermostats, count of switches and pounds of mercury recycled is below. It is important to note that there still remain non-members whose thermostats the TRC collection program recycles. They are listed in the table as “Non-Member Brands”.

³ A mercury thermostat contains a variable amount of mercury ampoules or “switches” attached to the subbase of the thermostat. These glass ampoules often times are collected in the recycling container without the intact thermostat attached to them. TRC collects and counts these loose ampoules and recycles them. To derive the converted thermostat or thermostat equivalent, the program takes the following calculations to develop the converted thermostat or thermostat equivalent. First, TRC will count the total whole (intact) thermostats collected in the recycling bins. From these units, there is an intact ampoules count. TRC then takes the intact ampoules divided by the whole (intact) thermostats or otherwise known as the conversion ratio. After the conversion ratio is calculated, TRC will multiple the loose mercury switches by the conversion ratio. Lastly, we add this result to the whole (intact) thermostats to produce the converted thermostats or thermostat equivalents.

TRC Staff and Administration	9,815	1,573	(8,242)
Total (expenses)	33,828	61,692	27,864

TRC Staff and Administration: Any costs for a specific state will take the hours worked at the TRC employee level multiplied by each individual's hourly rate.

2017 EDUCATION AND OUTREACH

DIRECT MARKETING (EMAIL, MAIL, OTHER COMMUNICATIONS)

Current Collection Locations

Collection Containers - From Big Bins to Small Pails.

- TRC shipped 6 NEW small pails and 18 NEW large bins.

The large, green bins which have been the staple of the program, continued to be replenished to collection locations throughout the state. Often times these new bin orders coincide with Accounts that open new stores, move or lose their existing containers.

The most interesting bin order for 2017 came from Economy Refrigeration in Flushing, NY. They ordered four bins in April and recycled over 1,500 mercury thermostats.

Collection Location Outbound Phone Calls

- Completed 326 calls to encourage returning the recycling container compared to 186 a year prior. A copy of the sites called can be found in the Appendix section of the annual report.

Collection Location Postcards

- Mailed 834 reminder postcards to ship the recycling container compared to 222 a year prior.
- Emailed 307 collection locations three weeks after receiving the postcard.

Collection Location Site Visits

- Visited 112 collection locations compared to 8 in 2016. A copy of the sites visited can be found in the Appendix section of the annual report.

HVAC Industry

- HARDI wholesale branch location clean-out mailing. Mailed 151 direct letters to wholesale distributors to direct them to clean-out any remaining mercury thermostat inventory.

Utility Industry

- Developed a list of utility driven energy efficiency projects geared towards thermostat replacements and rebates/incentives. The list to be worked on in 2018.

- Sent an informational email to known utility implementers on the program.
- Provided TRM language for thermostat recycling to the New York State Department of Public Service.
- Directly marketed to 59 community action agencies with a letter.

Household Hazardous Waste (HHW) Industry

- Emailed and mailed 3 Wheelabrator plants information on participating directly in the program.
- Directly called or emailed 4 HHW programs that participate in the PaintCare program and asked them to participate in TRC's recycling program. Voicemail and email messages were not returned.
- Called and emailed the CleanSweepNY program contacts asking if they would use program throughout the initiatives but they did not reply.
- Scoured google alerts for new HHW facilities openings or events to target phone call or email outreach to encourage them to use program.
- Participated and attended Onondaga County Resource Recovery Agency's Mercury and Medication Drop-Off Event on August 7th [Figure 4.1]. TRC purchased carbon credits to offset 66 tons of CO₂ equivalent emissions for the event. 112 mercury thermostats were collected that day.

2018 PROGRAM MODIFICATIONS

Thermostat Recycling Corporation's New York Planned Activities:

1. Continue the program's operational activities such as outbound phone calls, mailing reminder postcards, and visiting sites. Use collection data trends to target these initiatives.
2. Continue advertising which promotes the program's collection network and definition of new potential collection partners.
3. Target three key industries, Utilities, the waste-related sector, and HVAC.
4. Look for opportunities to switch collection points to small pails.
5. Leverage Oil, Energy Services Professionals (OESP) Long Island chapter HVAC contractor network. (Presentation prepared for May 6th).
6. Use Cadmus supplied report to continue TRC messaging requests to known utility programs.
7. Review utility programs; RetrofitNY and Pay4performance.
8. Targeting New York City.
 - a. Slice boroughs and develop targets with specific messaging.
 - b. Review ways to reach condos and Co-ops in NYC.
 - c. City agencies. Reach out to the NYC Retrofit Accelerator Program, NYC Homes and Communities agency and the NYC General Services Administration. (add as footnote - General Services Administration has 2.7B earmarked for next 10 years for Paris-like agreement which is fixed on energy efficiency. They are reviewing Government owned buildings for low hanging fruit).
9. Exhibit or attend at the following conferences.

APPENDICES

HOW MERCURY THERMOSTAT WASTE IS HANDLED

WASTE MERCURY-ADDED THERMOSTAT MANAGEMENT THROUGH VEOLIA ES TECHNICAL SOLUTIONS, LLC.

Beginning December 19, 2016, bins with waste mercury-switch thermostats were received at a new fulfillment/inventory center in Port Washington, Wisconsin (WIR000130591). The facility is owned and operated by Veolia ES Technical Solutions, L.L.C. (Veolia) under contract with TRC.

All recycling containers, including pails and bins are received at the loading dock and sent to the TRC inventory area. The bin and plastic liner are opened and the contents are identified, sorted, and tallied. The following data is recorded for each bin returned and processed: bin number, business name (location name), city, state, zip code, date returned, number of thermostats and mercury switches by manufacturer and any non-conforming material.

The containers are returned to the location that sent it in with a new prepaid address label within 72 hours of receipt. The thermostats are stored and staged in a plastic lined carton in a storage area for final processing. The containers are dated and processed in order received, first in-first out.

The thermostats and any loose bulb collected from the bins are consolidated into a special 55-gallon drum which is labeled and dated according to regulations. The drum is sealed with a band and is only opened when contents are being added to it. Special negative pressure venting assures any fumes are captured and vented when the drum is opened.

The 55-gallon drum is then shipped to Veolia's mercury recovery facility (WID988566543) for final processing of the mercury ampoules (switches) Veolia Environmental Services meets or exceeds all local, state, federal and EPA regulations for the management of the product.

The containers are returned from the storage area to the mercury recovery processing area to have the mercury bulbs removed from the plastic housing. Universal Waste Regulations require the recycling and disposal of waste within 12 months of acceptance at the processing facility.

Small quantities of thermostats are removed from the container, which is then closed again, a spillage. The bulbs are removed from the thermostats and placed into processing vessel at the work station. Once the processing vessel is full, the vessel is loaded into the mercury recovery retort oven.

If a bulb breaks and the mercury spills, the work area is designed to contain the spillage and the operators are trained in the clean-up and disposal of mercury. The TRC inventory and processing areas are equipped with special mercury vacuum cleaners and the work area is vacuumed at the end of the work day to assure that any spillage is cleaned up and not left to evaporate.

Veolia meets or exceeds all local, state, federal and EPA regulations for the management of the product. The mercury recovery facility and process are permitted by the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources. Veolia's approvals for mercury recovery/recycling include:

- EPA - identification WID988566543
- Hazardous Waste Storage License #6008
- Hazardous Waste Treatment License (Mercury Recovery Operations) #4585
- Air Operation Permit #246076050-S01
- Storm Water General Permit #WI-S067857-4

In addition to the regulatory permits, both Veolia Port Washington facilities have developed and maintains management systems in accordance with ISO 14001-2004, OHSAS 18001-2007, and Responsible Recycling (R2:2013) Practice. All persons who handle mercury thermostats as part of the TRC operation receive training in the handling of Hazardous Waste and Universal Waste.

The mercury containing ampules are retorted at Veolia's Port Washington Mineral Springs facility. The mercury is removed during the retort process. The post retort debris consists of broken glass ampules. The debris is tested for residual mercury to document the removal of the mercury to levels below the US EPA Land Disposal Restriction (LDR) levels. The debris is then disposal of as a non-hazardous solid waste at Advanced Disposal Glacier Ridge Landfill, LLC in Horicon, Wisconsin.

A site evaluation of the Veolia Processing Center in Port Washington, WI was conducted by TRC staffer, Danielle Myers, in early October 2017. From this audit, a new design flow for processing bins was discovered, as well as more efficient ways to return bins back to participating facilities and contractors. Updates to packaging instructions were also a result, and will include new marketing collateral, incentives, and small pails.
